It might feel good to...

- ✿ make a drink of healthy fruit juices and call it your "Spring Fever Elixir."
- ✿ send Mom a pre-Mother's Day card a week before her big day...just for fun.
- ✿ find a local pick-your-own-strawberries grower and make strawberry shortcake.
- ✿ learn the names for different cloud shapes at www.boatsafe.com/kids/weather1.htm
- ✿ plant a pot or two of sweet basil...it tastes great with fresh tomatoes.
- ✿ get the lawn chairs out and do some backyard lounging

Down-to-Earth Angels

For all the multitasking women in your life, these angels celebrate the down-to-earth joys of real life and real relationships. Each angel is packaged in a simple, stylish box that features the angel's name and an icon symbolizing her heavenly talents.

"Down-to-Earth Angels aren't lofty, and they're not overly religious. They are a little bit sassy, and they're different from anything else in the marketplace."

From Jenny in Virginia:
I've always loved standing in the store reading the greeting cards. For Mother's Day it would take me forever to pick just the right card for my mom. After she passed, I was going through her things and found the cards I had given her. I opened them to find that in several of the cards she had written back to me, telling me what a good mother I would be some day. Only a mother could understand how much those cards meant the second time around!
