.WELCOME.

A Magical Little World

If you could imagine your own magical little world this Christmas, what would it look like? Maybe you're baking. Or decorating. Or simply dreaming about the ornaments that will hang on your Christmas tree—and the loved ones you'll share them with.

Isn't it a little slice of heaven to picture it all just as you'd create it? If you're anything like us, you know it won't be perfect. And you wouldn't want it to be. Because there is joy in every imperfect tree filled with ornaments that tell your stories. There's merry in every messy pile of wrap and ribbons. And there are memories you wouldn't trade for anything.

Those memories are our greatest gifts. They're what Keepsake Ornaments are all about. So, as you explore the magical little worlds in this year's Dream Book, that's what we hope you'll find. Ornaments that make you reminisce. Surprise you with reminders of favorite times. Delight the little ones in your life. And celebrate all the people and moments that matter most. That's where you'll find your little slice of heaven.

On the nice list

The Stunning Santas in our new series feature intricately sculpted beards and strikingly detailed clothing inspired by designs from the Hallmark Archives. The first in the series was a collaboration between Terri Steiger (retired) and Jake Angell.

"This was Terri's design," Jake explains. "It was fun to bring her sketch to life. Sculpting the beard was my favorite part—she really let me develop that to look almost like piping on an ornate cake." It's an ornament series that's sure to make Santa's nice list.

"What's really fun about this piece is how interactive it is and how many performances you get. Put one character in the snowbank and you'll hear dialogue and see lights on the house. Put any two characters together and you get a completely different show with dialogue, lights and music!"

Jake Angell will always remember his first ride on Disneyland's Pirates of the Caribbean. "It made a great impression on me, and I still love the original animatronic characters from the ride. I had so much fun figuring out all the details that would bring the characters to life for this collection."

Editor Kelly Clark is a fan of the attraction as well and managed all the scripts. "We focused on choosing scenes that are the most iconic so we could stay true to what you experience as you're moving through the attraction. All the audio is authentic from the ride. Watch for four more ornaments coming over the next 2 years to complete your collection!"

"The pose for Supergirl™ was inspired by both the new movie and the Supergirl: Woman of Tomorrow comics. Looking at older art styles was inspiring, and it's nice to make callbacks to the comics in capturing the essence of a character. I hope you'll love the iconic costuming as well!"

Studio Spotlight

"This Christmas Tree Ornament brings me full circle, as my mom read the Harry Potter™ books to my sister and me when we were kids, and I remember wanting my own pet owl. I sculpted Hedwig™ using a beautiful sketch done by Rob Stanphill (retired). We used our detailed Beauty of Birds styling—creating her elaborate spots and stripes pattern was my favorite part."

Studio Spotlight

"This year is the 25th anniversary of Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring™ and this single-year Storytellers collection is a celebration of the film. I love that the bases of the Christmas tree ornaments look like the windows from the hobbit houses. Keepsake Artist Rob Stanphill (retired) is a huge fan, and it shows in this collection."

Studio Spotlight

“I love how much storytelling the light and sound bring to this piece! Lighting the suspended Zero out front was an engineering challenge for sure. We decided to up-light him with an LED in the cloud below, and it turned out great! The light show in the cloud is my favorite—it’s so dynamic as it comes to life.”
